Line Operations Staffing
Ashland (NH) Electric Department, Ashland, NH

[Posted 10/29/2019]

The Ashland (NH) Electric Department ("AED") is going through a re-organization to ensure the successful delivery of electricity to a community of 2,200 residents. The first step was to place the department directly under the leadership of the Town Manager. This creates a streamlined organization with all communications and decision-making given the highest priority. AED’s next step is to continue to develop its dedicated line operations staff. To accomplish this AED is looking to add one or two team oriented employees that are willing to contribute to establishing a culture of excellence. Given the importance AED places on a participative, team environment it is looking to find an employee(s) to fill one or two of the following positions:

- Superintendent: an experienced professional with excellent leadership skills and a minimum of five years as a Journeyman Lineman.

- Journeyman Lineman: an experienced lineman that has successfully completed NEPPA Lineworker training or a similar program and has three or more years of line operations experience.

- Apprentice Lineman: an entry level position for someone that has experience in line operations and/or recently completed lineworker training.

Ashland is a picturesque rural community near the geographical center of New Hampshire nestled within the Lakes Region and on the southern edge of the White Mountain Forest. The residential and resort community is bordered on the west by the Pemigewasset River and on the east by Little Squam Lake.
