REPORT OF THE LIBRARIAN.

FOR THE YEAR ENDING MARCH 14, 1882.

The whole number of books now in the the Library is less than last year ; that is, that are in circulation. Quite a number had become so worn out and partly gone, as to require their retirement from circulation, which I have done to some extent.

It seems to me unless some means for re-binding what books are worth it, and the purchase of new books, our Town Library must be on the eve of final extinction. The last appropriation for repair of books and purchase of new ones, made by the town, was, by the record, in 1873, of ninety-nine dollars.

Respectfully submitted,

B. B. WORTHEN, Librarian.

ANNUAL REPORT

—OF THE—

BOARD OF EDUDATION.

TO CHARLES SHEPARD, SUP'T OF SCHOOLS FOR THE TOWN OF ASHLAND.

In accordance with the law, and for your instruction, the Board of Education for District No. 1, make the following report:

We have had three terms of school in each of the four departments, and all very prosperous with one exception, that of the Spring term in the Higher Grammar. The scholars in this school had become so unruly that we thought best to employ a male teacher, at an increased cost in wages; but the result has been very satisfactory, so much so that we shall continue in the same way, at least another term.

HIGHER GRAMMAR.

First term, taught by Miss L. A. Harriman. Number of weeks, 10. Whole number of scholars, 19. Average daily attendance, 15.

Second term, taught by Mr. E. G. Moore. Number of weeks, 10. Whole number of scholars, 27. Average daily attendance 24.

Third term, taught by Mr. E. G. Moore. Number of weeks, 8. Whole number of scholars, 28. Average daily attendance 25.

GRAMMAR SCHOOL.

First term, taught by Miss Emma J. Fellows. Number of weeks, 10. Whole number of scholars, 25. Average daily attendance, 21.

Second term, taught by Miss Emma J. Fellows. Number of weeks, 10. Whole number of scholars, 24. Average daily attendance, 21.

Third term, taught by Miss Mary E. Nutting. Number of weeks 8. Whole number of scholars, 21. Average daily attendance, 19.

INTERMEDIATE SCHOOL.

The three terms taught by Miss Maria F. Ladd.

First term. Number of weeks, 10. Whole number of scholars, 37. Average daily attendance, 33.

Second term. Number of weeks, 10. Whole number of scholars, 28. Average daily attendance 25.

Third term. Number of weeks, 8. Whole number of scholars, 18. Average daily attendance, 16.

PRIMARY SCHOOL.

The three terms taught by Miss Lizzie F. Clement.

First term. Number of weeks, 10. Whole number of scholars, 49. Average daily attendance, 40.

Second term. Number of weeks, 10. Whole number of scholars, 41. Average daily attendance, 35.

Third term. Number of weeks, 8. Whole number of scholars, 36. Average daily attendance, 33.

In regard to the cost of a janitor, our policy has been and will continue to be, that the school house cost considerable money and is worth being well taken care of.

We require certain duties to be done, and advertise for proposals, and of course must accept the lowest bid we get.

In conclusion, we would say that the school house has been well taken care of the past year.

J. F. KEYES, Chairman.

DEXTER SANBORN, Clerk.

Ashland, N. H., Feb. 24, 1882.

SCHOOL REPORT.

DISTRICT No. 2. This school has had a spring term of six weeks, and a summer and fall term of almost ten weeks. Here they show their interest in the school, by giving the board and wood, as the Committee told me, although the school register does not show it. M. Alice Smith has been their teacher in both terms. Under her discipline the school has made good progress, and is in a flourishing condition.

Register incomplete.

DISTRICT No. 3. Minnie F. L. Brown has had the care of this school during the spring and summer terms, of ten weeks each. Fred. A. Wells is their teacher during this term, which will be sixteen weeks in length when closed. This school has made fair progress during the year, and the scholars seem to be well interested in their studies. This is a union district between Holderness and Ashland.

Register well filled out up to present time.

DISTRICT No. 4. Here has been a spring term of eight weeks, taught by M. Alice Smith, who is a good and faithful teacher, except in keeping the register. The fall and winter term, of eighteen weeks, was kept by L. Luthera Sanborn. Miss Sanborn is young, and has lately commenced teaching, but she gains the love and respect of her scholars generally, and, it is hoped she will make a good addition to our corps of teachers. The closing examination of the fall term was not very satisfactory. Perhaps the inconstant attendance of a part of the scholars, and the extreme length of the term, ought in part, to account for it.

The school register was not very well kept.

DISTRICT No. 5. Here has been one term of fourteen weeks, taught by Mary E. Huckins. The good discipline under which the scholars have been held, has made it a profitable school. The register was well kept. This is a union district between New Hampton, Centre Harbor and Ashland. When I visited this school, near the close, it seemed like a model of quietness and good order.

A few general remarks, perhaps, may not be thrown away. It has been said by some of our wise legislators in the past, that the perpetuity of our free institutions, would depend upon the intelligence of the people. If that has been true in the past, it is doubly true in the present, and will be in the future. The intelligence of the people will depend, in a measure, on the condition of the common schools. If they are allowed to decline, a generation will soon be here incapable of self-government.

The schools that have been under my superintendence have, perhaps, done as well as could be expected under the circumstances. There are so many enterprises and public entertainments, to engross the minds of the young, that there is some danger of education being driven into a corner.

There seems to be a general liberality felt towards supporting the schools, which is very commendable. If parents and all good citizens, would visit their schools occasionally, it would encourage the scholars, and stimulate the teachers to a more vigorous discharge of duty.

Indolence could not very well endure the eyes of a whole district. It is to be regretted that any should take their children from their own school, prematurely, and send them to other schools to acquire the rudiments of learning. If the school is not what it ought to be, make it better. Hold out such inducements as will draw in teachers whose moral and intellectual ability will throw a brightness, not only over the school, but over the whole community. Then, learning will be respected, and our scholars will be more ambitious. Let no one be allowed to transact the business of the district, who is not above bartering away the interest of the school for his own selfish gain, or that of friends.

Remember that learning alone, does not always make a good teacher. It is worse than robbery, to use the public money in supporting poor schools, and allowing scholars to waste their valuable time in attending them. It is a loss not easily repaired.

If inexperienced and incompetent teachers will pursue their occupation, let them do it somewhere else. At present, we cannot afford to employ any such ones.

Respectfully submitted,

CHARLES SHEPARD,

Superintending School Committee.
